

Loseley Fields Newsletter

May 2023

Dear Parents/ Carers,

How time flies. It only seems a blink of an eye when I was writing last year's newsletter at the start of the summer term. I hope that you all had a wonderfully restful Easter break. It has been so lovely to return to school in the sunshine and to come back to a school site in full bloom, giving us hope that warmer weather is on its way. The crowning glory is our beautiful blossom tree that lies in the heart of our school in all its magnificence. We all appreciate, so greatly, the hard work of Mr Yordanov, our wonderful caretaker, whose love and passion for our school can be seen through the care he takes in ensuring that the upkeep of every area of our school site is kept like a national trust garden; for him, we are truly grateful. Through him, we see the next generation looking after their school grounds and it's a joy to watch the children interact so respectfully with our school environment, appreciating just how lucky they are to come to such a wonderful school.

This term is the busiest for us in our school calendar and, in particular, for the teachers. We are just about to enter the season of statutory assessments across many of our year groups. Our Year 1 children have been working so hard all year on their phonics and early reading programmes and in June will be taking their phonics screen assessments. Our Year 2 children will be taking some quizzes to help support the teachers to make their teacher assessments of the children as they exit the infant years and start their key stage 2 curriculum next year in Year 3. Our Year 4 children have been preparing for their Times Tables multiplication check in June and our Year 6 will be taking their SATs test. We are so very proud of the efforts of each and every one of them. Their attitude to learning, each day, is a credit to you and whatever the outcome we know that they have done their best.

There has been a tangible air of excitement across the school, and in particular in our Reception Classes, upon the opening of the new play equipment this week. Thank you all so much for ensuring that the Year R teachers can set up their outdoor lessons for the children before the start of school so that learning can begin without delay. I thought you would all like to see some pictures of their smiley faces as they explored this area at the beginning of the week.

Please remember that we have two Mondays as bank holidays next month (May 1st and May 8th) the additional one being to celebrate the Kings coronation. I hope that you all enjoy this very special additional family time together.

Kind Regards

Amanda Pedder
